“ Lyle was a gifted teacher and one of the kindest and friendliest people in a faculty of kind and friendly people. He was an inspiration to all of us who knew him. May his memory be a blessing.

“ Lyle was an interesting Briar Cliff colleague of Herb's and a frequent guest at our dinner table. He was so kind to our growing children. As I see his photo, I still see that kindness...and mischief in his eyes. I know you will miss him. Condolences to all, rosie

“ I knew Lyle as a teacher and friend from 1973-77.

Lyle met my Dad, Colonel Karl E. Dankof (USAF-ret), at some sort of informal gathering before I graduated. I vividly remember his comment later at how much he liked him, had a good sense of Lyle as a “good troop.”

I had no idea of all of Lyle’s Omaha roots back in those days of June 1977. Dad was at then Omaha University (now UNO) on a football scholarship from 1938-41. My parents married in Omaha in June of 1941, 6 months before Pearl Harbor, which ended my Dad’s football career there. The loss of these great men is made bearable only by the assurance of the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

“ Cousin Lyle:

I am grateful to have shared a genetic family link as well as a shared values soul link with you. So many conversations about social justice, care for marginalized populations and the love of Nature. May your spirit be flying free and with ease. You will be dearly missed. Love you!

“ In 2002-2004 when I served Castelar Presbyterian Church Lyle was living in the parsonage beside the church. He and I visited frequently and he was always great to talk to and a real colleague in ministry. I will always remember his supporting presence from those days. Rev. Portia Iverson, Plattsmouth, NE

“ It was very sad to learn of Cousin Lyle's passing. Lyle was a first cousin to my mother, Mary Ann (Franzen) Holden.

Lyle always seemed to have a twinkle in his eye giving me the strong impression that he understood where I was coming from even before I could articulate it. I believe that perceptive ability served him well as he devoted his life to counseling and helping others.

Lyle, thank you for officiating the wedding of our oldest daughter, Kim. It was a beautiful service and we will forever be grateful.

Rest in peace, dear friend. We will miss you.

Lyle was a beloved colleague at Briar Cliff University, where he taught Social Work. He always championed justice and peace on and off campus. One year he and I simultaneously won the student-chosen congeniality award for faculty. I didn't deserve it, but Lyle did. He was always positive and upbeat even while confronting serious societal wrongs. His colleagues and students loved him. My condolences to his family for the loss of his light.
