“ Barb and I “played cats” with our stories about Not My Cat (Stubby) and her 3 boys. We always pretended that Stubby and Tigger would be married- if only Stubby could hop on that Greyhound dog she believed would run past our home in Alabama. When we communicated with each other, for a little while we could forget the pain and worry, and be girls again. I miss her more than I can say. What a beautiful soul. Barb, the world is better because you were here. I’ll love you forever, my friend.

“ You are one of my three pink ladies, as Barb would refer to me time and time again. I will never forget that after the fundraiser we had for Barb soon after her diagnosis, she presented myself and her other two pink ladies with matching beautiful pink heart and diamond pendants. That was Barb always giving, always kind, always thoughtful of others.
I will always hold that pendant close to my heart and smile at the memories you left behind.
While Barb adored and loved her Troopers, I had the honor to just be her friend who I admired, adored and loved.
Until we meet again friend.

“ Barb was always the calm voice on the other end of the radio. She always could tell by the tone of my voice that the situation I was dealing with was out of the norm, and she was calling to get me help before I was able to ask for it. Barb loved her Troops.
