“ Brandy was the smartest women I knew. She excelled at learning. If she didn't know then she would learn. She was a great mom to her girls. She always put their best interests at her forefront. She and Jeremy were a great tag team. They were always doing things together and as a family. They were a hard act to follow. Brady shared so much love with her family and others. Always there spreading love, kindness and support. The neighborhood will miss you.

“ It just breaks my heart to think of a world without Brandy in it. There was not a human at NM that could brighten my day like Brandy. Heaven is much brighter and lighter with you in it. You definitely made your mark on this world and on me. Thank you for the privilege of knowing you.

“ Brandy was one of the kindest, most sincere people I've ever met. Her passion for her family, her community and her work (in that order) is an example we should all strive for and a lasting legacy she leaves behind. Her openness during this courageous fight and in everything she did has left me a better human. She will certainly be missed by all who knew her, but never forgotten. Let her memory be a blessing.

“ After our house fire, Brandy very quickly ran to Walmart and bought clothes and shoes for my six kids. She was always a bright light in a room, and always greeted me on Sundays. My husband and I are grateful for her kindness and will miss seeing her. We rejoice with her being with Jesus, and mourn her with you.

“ I met Brandi through the “kid city” - children’s ministry at Westside and (although I’m a teacher myself) learned so much by working with her in the Sunday school rooms. She became a friend, and we tried to do a bible study (or two) together... but what really amazed me was her own personal daily bible study program she had created for her girls. Her knowledge of the Bible, and how she wanted to share that - in a meaningful, daily way - was so powerful to me. Here I was, trying to find the best “bible study companion” - while she was creating her own. Also, her examples to her daughters of how to be the best version of yourself and always help others... I remember her story of just within the last year, I believe, where she was taking care packages to a pretty sketchy area of town (which for sure needed it- but she’s a small girl, bringing her girls...) - but she prayed on it, did it, and had AMAZING results, and those people who needed it- got it! She will forever remind me the power of just “doing.” God - thank you for having her be a small part of my life, and a big part of so many more!
