“ I worked with Denny for 10 years at DPD until he retired. In my early cop years, watching him interact with people, he demonstrated how to remain calm under pressure as well as not talk down to someone despite the unfortunate circumstances they got themselves into. I may not have realized those lessons right then, but in time I was able to reflect on how he treated people with dignity and respect. I always hoped our paths would somehow cross again someday, just for a chance meeting to say hello. My sincere condolences to his family and friends.

“ Dennis was a police officer in Dubuque and I was a dispatcher. He was the calmest most caring man. No matter the situation. May he rest in peace.
