“ Dorothy's smile and laugh were contagious. Everyone here at Nye Square knew who she was by her kind words and very clever come backs and remarks. She had lived at Nye Square longer than any other tenant and the owner always had such nice remarks about her at Heritage Day. Twenty-eight years is a long time to live in any house and we were blessed to have her here at Nye for that time. I personally enjoyed the fun we had because she loved to cancel appointments and then read the newspaper. Then she would quiz me on daily events. And nobody was more fun to debate the elections. Any election would do. She could quote things that former Presidents had said and pull them into debates faster than I could remember who the person was. And trivia - she was the queen of all!!! We always said that when we were older we would go on some TV show and challenge anyone to things from the Bible. We both loved to see who could challenge the other to a question about the Bible. These are the memories I will remember. For all of you she left behind, my thoughts and prayers are with you. She will be missed.
