“ I will always think of Jim with his very sincere smile! He was a gracious, lovable man who always listened to you when you talked to him! I saw and talked to him and his loving wife, Shelly in July, 2021! We talked and shared a lot about his cancer journey because we had just lost Deb Gross, my dear sister friend to the same disease. He told me he was going to fight it with all he's got but in the end he told me that " whatever happens, it is God's plan and he will accept it. These were the very same words Deb said as she fought her courageous battle! So now they are visiting in their heavenly home and talking about the journey they both traveled. He had such an amazing outlook on life and was grateful to have his family beside him in this fight. Although he lost this battle, he left behind a legacy of faith and how to live life right and for God. He had a deep faith and he and Shelly raised their 5 beautiful children to also know God. God took another "good" one home! You will be missed, Jim! Love you!

“ Always a pleasure to work with.
Always on an even keel.
Always ready to help others
Now, always in the memories of so many.

You were not one to toot your own horn, but I hope that the engineer (Holy Spirit) lets you sound the horn on that Express Train to Paradise.

Rest easy my friend.

I worked with Jim many years ago when he was at Godfather's. He was a great manager and a dedicated father. Our daughters both play for the same soccer club and Jim was always watching his daughter's practices and games! Prayers to the entire Whitaker family!!!!
