“ I'll never forget the first time I met Kevin. I could tell immediately what a wonderful man Kevin was, and he was just a delight to visit with. I only wish I'd have known him years ago. I'll never forget a clear vision that I have of Kevin. It involved Mona. Every time she was in a class, Kevin, at some point, would always peek in and wave at her. What a special memory for Mona. Blessings & prayers for Mona and her family.

“ I met Kevin in Aug of 1966, as he and his cousin Danny pushed a small motorcycle up the drive behind Boucher Field bleachers. We became lifelong friends from that moment on. Kevin was always an anchor on our turbulent ship of Malt liquor fueled craziness in high school and beyond. He had a subtle way about him, involved in the action, yet in the shadows. This continued in subsequent reunions, his keen awareness of his dancing girl, Mona, as she twirled and twirled on whatever dance floor we found ourselves. His sneaky smile and eyes following her. RIP, dear old buddy.

Years after graduating from high school, Kevin was still there giving helpful reminders with mechanical upkeep. Four years ago I purchased a classic car that had been under a pine tree in the New Mexico sun for 20 years. Bringing it back to the east coast on a trailer, one of the brake lines was crushed. Kevin sent me a private message reminding me that I might want to consider replacing all the brake components as they might just begin failing one at a time. I appreciated his reminder. And, it reminded me of time spent keeping vehicles on the road in high school. Rest in Peace, Kevin
