

Kristin Ann Larson

May 23, 1966 - January 1, 2024

We truly do not know how to share this news with you. It is with a very heavy heart that we tell you

Kristin lost her battle with ovarian cancer. We never dreamed she would be gone so quickly.

She had a wonderful Christmas with family in Omaha, Nebraska. Then on January 1 st - God decided to spare her of any more suffering. Her cancer had returned after nine years. She has not felt well since summer but continued to put on a smile through her pain. It is such a blessing that God ended her suffering, but an extremely painful loss for all of us.

Our hearts are broken as we are sure yours are too. Our family is blessed with strong faith and knows she is in Heaven with our loved ones. The more we share the loss of Kristin with others, the more real it becomes. We believe she thought she would have more time. She adored life, animals/pets and family. We hope you treasure every memory you have with Kristin. For all of those that have been touched by her kind ways, help celebrate her life by paying her love forward. We share in your sorrow.

“Please remember in life what is really important - loving others as Jesus would. I would add that I loved all of you. I wish you good times and good health. My wish for all of you is that you become “born again” if you are not already. See you in Heaven!”
– With love, Kristin

Ich bin klein Mein Herz ist rein,
Soll niemand drin wohnen Als Jesus allein. Amen.

I am little, my heart is pure.
No one should live in it, but Jesus alone.

Amen.

“ I met Kristin when I started volunteering for Animal Rescue Force at the Delray Beach PetSmart adoption events. I remember passing the time with her and the dogs, her asking me questions about my cat Koko and my dog Bailey who is in Heaven. I like to think now that Bailey is keeping her company alongside all the other precious animals that crossed the rainbow bridge. I was and still am blown away by how kind, generous, and selfless she was to everyone, especially animals in need. Even though our time together was short, I noticed she took the time to remember details about everyone. I'm so grateful that she thought of me and recommended me to volunteer at a regular basis at the cat shelter. Volunteering for ARF is something I look forward to every week and it gives me a sense of purpose. I'm forever thankful that I met Kristin and I strive to be like her and devote my time to helping animals in need.

“ Kristin was a beautiful, smiling woman who loved the Earth. She gave herself to all the unwanted dogs and cats she could gather working every weekend until she found them a home. I even took a few until a home was found so they would get euthanized. She planted trees with me for Everglades Restoration, counted sea turtles nests with me and always with Debbie Sobel on Singer Island. She did beach cleanup on Juno Beach when i hosted the cleanup for Pine Jog Environmental Center. I greatly admired Kristin for her sweet heart and strong spirit for all things natural. She was also a great pal in a canoe. She knew how to row in right direction and she could lift the canoe all by herself. I want the share a photo of her from her visit when i was in Grand Teton National Park and Yellowstone. Actually i was in Jackson, Wyoming and we toured together when she came visiting. The photo i am trying to share is of Kristin after her bout with cancer and she was so happy to be through her treatments. She was sharing a big chocolate, creamy dessert with me. I took a photo of her fun face getting ready to eat it. I am going to share this tribute to her first because it is the third tome i've written it.

Dear reader of my tribute to Kristin. I wrote it three times and it would not post. It would just disappear. I wrote this last one and there are a few typos. I am sorry about that. To begin i took some dogs so they would NOT be euthanized. The few others are self explanatory.

“ Here are just a few of the things I learned from my sweet friend Kristin in no particular order:

- * Every living creature has a will to live, even a cockroach.
- * When you go for an ocean swim, pick up plastic during the swim (we would tuck it in our suits) and while walking on the beach.
- * I am not alone in preferring a cold pool for lap swimming.
- * If your dog puts his paw on top of your foot, gently remove your foot from under and put it on top of the dogs paw so he knows who is the boss.
- * Calico cats are sassy and don't expect that to change.
- * It is ok to live life on your own terms.
- * It is better to be patient and kind.

My heart is heavy. I miss her so much but I know her beautiful soul is at peace.

I will always strive to be more like her.

You are missed beautiful friend.

*Love,

“ Dear Sea Turtle Conservation League Volunteers,

It is with a heavy heart that I write to you. Our dear sea turtle friend, Kristin Larson, unexpectedly passed away on January 1, 2024 on her way home from visiting her family for two weeks over the Christmas holiday.

Kristin started with us in 2007, the first biologist to volunteer with the Sea Turtle Conservation League of Singer Island. At that time, our survey area began at Ocean Mall's south border and ended at Mac Arthur Beach State Parks southern border. Kristin was 39 years old at this time.

I was thrilled to have such a delightful, smart, sensitive person in our turtle group. Kristin worked for the South Florida Water Management District during the week. She arranged her schedule to have Friday's off, which for the past 16 years, was always her day to do the nesting survey. Everyone who worked with Kristin loved her! And I was thankful to have her lead the team with her knowledge of our program on Singer Island. I can't begin to figure out the number of hatchlings Kristin saved during her 16 years working on a very heavily nested beach.

Kristin was a huge animal rescue advocate. She was always fostering dogs and cats and would take home the sickest of them, in order to nurse them back to health. She always had transport cages in the backseat of her car, to head out with the most recently rescued animal. I loved hearing about what she was up to each week in her endeavors.

Many of you didn't know that Kristin was also a volunteer for the Kravis Center, where she ushered on Wed. nights. She had a lot of enjoyment from this program, which enabled her to see some of the best shows in Palm Beach County.

Kristin was a marathon swimmer. Many of you remember some of the meets she would swim, that were long and hard in the ocean. I was always in awe of her strength to do this. She always finished each swim and would get ready for the next event in the future.

About 9 years ago, Kristin fought Ovarian cancer and had Chemo. Her health looked good after this. Unknown to me, she was scheduled for surgery on January 22nd to remove a mass that had grown. Her sister, Erin told me she was not one to let everyone know what she was going through, health-wise.

She wanted people to treat her normally. What courage she displayed!

I am so glad that she was at my house on December 2nd, for our annual Volunteer Appreciation Dinner, because that was probably the last time any of us would see her. She was happy and looking forward to seeing her family over the holidays. She discussed the 2024 nesting season with one of her partners from Friday, Cara Abbott, and about being together again with Erica Oshier, starting on March 1st, 2024.

Condolences can be sent to one of Kristin's sisters.

Kristin is survived by her 4 sisters and her Mom. A Memorial Service is being planned in our area for sometime in March. I will let you all know the date when it is given to me. On behalf of our group, I send love and prayers to her family.

I know we will all miss Kristin so much. A wonderful sea turtle advocate who helped to strengthen our endangered sea turtle population for so many years.

Her loss will be felt by so many of us in the years ahead.

With deep sadness,

“ Kristin was my first cousin and the closest thing to a sister I've known. We grew up sharing an intense (pathological) love of animals and obsession with our Breyer model horses, all of which were entitled with both formal and practical names (e.g., Charging for Leadership a.k.a Charger for the rearing bay stallion). We probably had at least 30-40 models each and all of their names and pedigrees (made up) were carefully documented on sheets of notebook paper in Kristin's recognizable script. Anyone who knew her would be familiar with her penmanship as she was diligent to remember every birthday or occasion with a kind (snail mail) card and anecdote. We shared a desire and plan to become veterinarians, but early on she realized she was too kind hearted and empathetic to perform some of the job's mandates. Instead she found her passion in animal rescue. All who knew her well experienced the unforeseen consequences of her dedication: detours that took you far off course to pick up or transfer a homeless pet, long lonely waits on curbs or in restaurants-or worse, nail biters for airport transports - finding out later she had snuck some animal related task into the already tight itinerary, approving your personal cell phone (she refused to have one of her own) for animal rescue related calls and texts throughout a vacation and surprise "volunteer" activities that you found yourself a participant in. Kristin was kind and sensitive, stubborn and impossibility strong (even in her last days she could wrestle her burly foster dog to submission). She loved her family and friends and she fought for the weak and underserved. She was a fierce environmentalist who lead beach cleanups and preferred a night in a tent to a 5 star hotel. She was gentle and kind and made an impact on all that knew her. I wish there were more days, and I hope that she knew how much we all loved her.

Laura, this had me laughing and is so spot on- waiting to be picked up from the airport (with no cell phone or way to contact her) to “volunteer” activities ranging from detours to transport a homeless animal to dropping off soup for the homeless guy who promised he would be at the corner on Saturday (and wasn’t there). I miss how she would pick you up 1.5 hours late in her two seater truck with space for you in the “third” seat in the back. I fondly remember our camping tents in pouring Florida rain and canoeing through herds of alligators and thunderstorms far from civilization (without telling mom). She took me trick-or-treating all dressed up (never too old to be a kid) and taught me to swim through the ocean waves and fearlessly ride rollercoasters. I miss her.

“ Hi Kristin, I just miss you.

You were always a good child. You were always good at school.

Thank you for taking me on all those amazing camping trips, they were very nice. Thank you for the ferry boat ride in Florida to the simple cottage right on the beautiful ocean. Thank you for the walks along the ocean.

Thank you for taking me to the Kravis Theater. I loved our turtle walks and watching you stake the nests and loved seeing the babies go into the ocean. That was really something! Thank you taking me to your favorite vegetarian restaurants. Thank you for inviting me to Alaska three times when you lived there.

Thank you for my recent haircut. Thank you for coming home every year for Christmas, especially this year.

I am glad you did not suffer. I really did not want that foster dog, but you took such good care of him at my house. I want you to be buried with your dad and me, because there is a place for you.

Honestly, it won't me long for me to see you and dad and all of you in heaven.

“Kristin was kind-hearted, selfless and compassionate. We worked together at SFWMD for over 20 years, swam together at Palm Beach Masters, and were both active with animal rescue.

We spent many long days in the field early in our careers and had so many good laughs. Kristin never missed an opportunity to help an animal in need. I am shocked and saddened to learn of her passing but comforted to know she was in Nebraska with her family and met on the other side by thousands of animals she helped rescue over the years. My deepest condolences to Kristin's friends and family. She will be sorely missed by all who were blessed to know her.

“ Kristin was one of those special people that gives more of herself than she ever got back. She started as a co-worker and we became good friends. When she was in the hospital with the first bout of cancer we visited her and when I was in the hospital she would come, bringing books (always about dogs since she knew I loved dogs) and sitting there telling me amusing stories and about different movies.

As most know she was not the greatest with technology. We spent some time getting her iPad (gifted from a sister because she would never think to buy one) so she could get emails for work. I would help her at work with the technology but she was the greatest in the field and working with our landowners. They loved her gentle nature. She always had a bag and we would be out in the field she would pick up trash. She treated everyone she met with dignity and respect regardless of who they were. She would be pulling out invasive vegetation to give the native vegetation a chance. One of the pictures posted here is her bent over doing that.

I knew she was sick and kept after her to go to the Drs. She lost weight quickly. But while her passing shocked me, it really shocked others. Kristin did not want to bother other's or bring them down with her problems. But she was a great listener, a sounding board for others problems.

Kristin hated cell phones and refused to carry one. When her van broke down she would walk the 3 or so miles to get to Publix. They would let her use their phone and she would call to see if it would be too much trouble to get her or she would walk the 8 or so miles home. The old rescue van broke down frequently.

Kristin was a gentle soul. She was my friend and I loved her. She was loved by many. She will be missed.

“ I’ve had the pleasure of knowing Kristin for the past 23 years since she started working at SFWMD, and wish I had 23 more. Her large extended family should know they were always first and foremost in her heart, one of the largest I have ever known.

Kristin would

- Start conversations with “How are YOU...”
- Relocate a fire ant nest
- Remove animals from the shelter’s “death row”
- Show up at a toddler’s BDay party in a sombrero for the pinata fun
- Never miss a friend’s gathering, schedule permitting
- Give swimming lessons to her friends’ children
- Give a ride to someone that needed one, a source of several interesting stories
- Talk to everyone
- Wrinkle up her nose and say, “Um. Maybe” rather than totally disagree with me
- Take her mother camping
- Send my son a card for graduation
- Go by “Tina” when ordering out
- Take my out-of-state friend with her on an early morning turtle count

I will miss her, my coworkers will miss her, and my family will miss her. I suspect everyone reading this will miss her.

“ Kristin was my amazing turtle partner on Fridays with the Sea Turtle Conservation League of Singer Island for the last 8 years. Kristin was hands down one of my favorite people on this planet. In our 8 years as turtle partners, I got to know her well and she became such an important, positive person in my life.

I will miss getting breakfast with her every week after our survey is over. I will miss her guzzling down Arnold Palmers after the longest survey days in July. I will miss how she was always just a little bit late but I knew that and adjusted my time to Kristin time. I will miss our weekly phone calls to plan out our survey since she never in her life owned a cell phone and we couldn't plan over text. I will miss how wonderful, goofy and thoughtful she was with my boys. I will miss getting her recommendations on what movies to watch and what movies to skip. Mostly, I'm going to miss her friendship.

Kristin was one of those people who left every place she went better than she found it.

Rest in Peace, Kristin ❤️

“ The world lost an earthly angel, literally! I met Kristin when I was 14 years old at my first job working for a fancy restaurant in Omaha called Claudia's. We became friends instantly even with the fact I was much younger than her at the time. Kristin could connect with everyone and all animals. She taught me early on to be health conscience on food and the cruel meat industry. She gave me unconditional support as a friend no matter where she lived. She would send me post cards with fun stories of her adventures. Kristin was that person that you didn't talk to or see for years and the minute you meet up, no time or bond was lost. “ My deepest sympathies to the entire Larson clan.

I first met Kristin while participating in the water quality program at ARM Loxahatchee National Wildlife Refuge. I worked for U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and she worked for the South Florida Water Management District. She was "my teacher" -- assigned to teach me the ropes about protocols with water sampling and lab procedures. Then our friendship grew into so much more. We connected on so many levels, both vegetarians, both animal lovers, both film buffs, both volunteered at Kravis, both members of Dining Out group, both loved nature and environmental issues, both readers, both Christians... Kristin was one of the kindest, sweetest, humblest human beings I have ever met. Her interests were vast. I know she is with her Father, in no more pain, and with all her loved ones. You are missed. Till we meet again, my friend!

It was wonderful to see her love for animals, but I didn't know about her many other interests. Her life was truly inspiring. I am glad that your paths crossed. They don't make them any better than Kristin.

“ I met Kristin 13 years ago when I became the veterinarian for the ARF cats. She and I shared a lot of stories, as we are both from the Midwest, live animals and work with sea turtles, and we both survived ovarian cancer. Being in remission myself for over ten years, this hits close to my heart and soul and reminds me that life is fragile and precious. Kristin left behind a legacy with us here in SE Florida and I'm grateful that I got to see her, laugh and cry with her and share hugs right before she journeyed to Nebraska and then into God's hands. RIP Kristin, I'm sure all of the animals meeting you on the rainbow bridge will shower you with their love.
