“ When I think of Lori, I think of an empathetic listener that is rare to find. Someone who truly cares to understand, and seeks to bring people clarity and peace. I could talk to Lori about things that were hard to share with other people. She was funny, incredibly intelligent, artistic and so talented. I'm so grateful to have known her.

“ When I think of Lori, I think of someone who lived live to the fullest! She was always looking to have fun. I have many memories of you growing up across the street, but two always come to mind first. 1) The day I had about 10 girls, with Lori leading the way, at my front door. The moment I opened my door, they came running in and stood at my front window! They were watching the good looking boys roofing Julie's house! 2) I had put my old couch at the curb to be taken away. I had also put an old guitar sitting on the couch. Suddenly I hear singing coming from the street and here are Lori and Sarah sitting on the couch, playing the guitar and singing to anyone that would listen. Love these girls! Lori, you will be missed. Love you!
