

Lynda Ann Crouch

December 20, 1964 - February 4, 2026

Lynda Crouch was born on December 20, 1964, and lived a life defined by love, strength, and service to others. She was a devoted mother to her three children — Josh, Justin, and Katie — and a mom that anyone could only dream of having. Kind, loving, and endlessly supportive, she always had her children's backs and loved them unconditionally.

Lynda shared a beautiful marriage of 40 years with her husband, Jim Crouch, building a life filled with love, family, and countless cherished memories together. Their partnership was the foundation of their family and a true example of commitment and devotion.

From a young age, Lynda showed dedication and leadership. In high school, she was a writer and editor for the school newspaper and consistently made the honor roll. Her academic achievements earned her scholarship offers, and she proudly accepted admission to Northwest Missouri State University.

Between September 1990 and April 1991, during a time of great concern for families with loved ones serving in the military, Lynda took it upon herself to notify families in the area with troop updates and organize care packages to send overseas. Her compassion and willingness to help others reflected who she was at heart.

Lynda was known as the neighborhood mom — always welcoming children into her home, caring for them like her own, and bringing everyone together. She hosted pay-per-view wrestling nights and was famous for her delicious nachos that became a favorite among all the kids. Her home was a place of warmth, laughter, and love.

From 1995 to 2012, Lynda was deeply involved with EVW, leading fundraising efforts and running the concession stand. She was also the ultimate football mom, making sure every player was taken care of, encouraged, and supported.

Professionally, Lynda dedicated over 30 years to Carlson Hospitality, where she worked in resource planning. After her time there, she continued to show the same passion and dedication while working for Blue Cross Blue Shield, leaving a positive impact on everyone she worked with.

Lynda was passionate about giving back and volunteered in many charity runs throughout her years of running and walking. Even during her battle with liver cancer, she remained incredibly strong. During chemotherapy treatments, she walked a full marathon — a powerful testament to her courage and determination.

Family meant everything to Lynda. She cherished fishing and camping trips with Jim, her children, and grandchildren. She was a proud grandmother to six grandkids and never missed a show, game, or school event. She continued showing up for them until just days before her passing.

Lynda Crouch leaves behind a legacy of love, compassion, resilience, and devotion. She will forever be remembered as a loving wife, a devoted mother, a proud grandmother, and a woman who made every person feel cared for.

“ Lynda was one of the people I liked best at work. She always seemed so intelligent and on top of things every time she communicated with me. Sometimes she would do something in a fun way that would make me smile. She could be surprising. I remember I had this impression of strength radiating from her, the first time I was in a meeting with her--later, I didn't realize what she was going through, but looking back on it she seemed kind and peaceful. She always treated me very respectfully. I was sad when I learned she died.

I really am saddened that she is gone. Though I didn't know her well, she was still one of my very favorite people at Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Nebraska. She even had a sense of humor about things. Like, one day when they let me have the day off at the very last minute, she told me something like to "Go free!" I can't remember quite what she said but she made me smile and surprised me.

I'm truly sorry for your loss. Please take good care of yourselves.

“ Lynda was one of those rare people who left light everywhere she went. I'll always remember how she asked me to work a table with her at the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Walk—she made it feel less like volunteering and more like being part of something hopeful and full of purpose. Her optimism was contagious, and her kindness reached everyone she met. Lynda truly never met a stranger; she had a way of making you feel seen, welcomed, and valued within moments. The world is dimmer without her, but the love and positivity she shared will live on in all of us who were lucky enough to have known her. Sending my condolences to her family and friends

“ I got to know Lynda at BCBSNE. She was a big supporter of our military/veteran community at the company and a champion of wellness for our employees. Every time I saw her or talked to her, she had a smile, hug and encouraging words for me. She lead our involvement in several community events as well. My deep condolences to the family - Lynda was a truly special woman with a heart of gold. She will be missed.

“ Lynda and I met in a on line support group for cancer patients. We never met in person but became prayer partners sine we were both diagnosed at the same time. We have faithfully prayed for each other. We both have daughters named Katie. She was such an inspiration and encouragement to me! I am so grateful that God brought her into my life. Praying for her children and grandchildren! Looking forward to to the day when our Lord and Savior brings us together in His presence !

“ From my first day I at Carlson, Lynda made an impression on me. Always prepared with a smile no matter what was going on that day. She was always willing to help with whatever was needed and answer any question with grace and care. You could always count on Lynda to look out for you. She did that for everyone! This morning the light in the world is just noticeably dimmer without you in it. You will be missed!!

“ Lynda was the example of true joy. I am sure she had moments where life got the better of her but I never witnessed it. It seemed she always brought out the best in people. Her smile and laugh is what I will forever remember, I don't believe I have ever been around her when she wasn't smiling. The world was a better place for having her in it and I was blessed to have known her and fortunate to call her a friend.
