“ For you Sherri and the rest of the family, we are sending you our condolences'. I so remember the old days when Mark helped me with making my Christmas tree ladder and with Marge helping me with making my baby blanket out of crocheted squares and those good old card playing days that I think about often. It was an honor to have taken care of Mark while he was in the hospital. I will miss knowing that he is no longer with us. He is now at peace as he wished.

“ Dear family, I am sorry about the loss of your one. The Bible promise that one day thee dead will be restored to life by the resurrection(John 5:28,29). I hope this promise bring the family a measure of hope.
