“ Just been staying busy since you passed. Now Tyler has joined you. Love you both. Miss you and we'll not sure what else to say. Not same world we grew up in. All the good people seem to leave too soon. Love brother Ron

“ Sure miss you. Remember putting those culvert in together as kids. Spending summers at grandpa Clare and grandma Helen's. Getting drunk when bout six in basement of that Daggerman uncle's basement drinking beer out of keg and dad giving us hell. We could hardly walk to the car

“ Wanted you to know that Bob and Amy are in good hands with my friend Sterling Smith he has older farmhouse in Blair with plenty of mice. Him and Bob are greatest of friends. I told him Bob don't like no one petting his back and Amy was a little escape artist. Will check on them from time to time. Know how much they meant to you. Miss you. Ron

“ I remember the first time we went to the WildLife safari and you were so excited to show me all the animals there out in the open. I miss that day a lot, it was a lot of fun. I miss just listening to you talk about your past about anything really. You always had a way of making things interesting to listen to including prepping and WWII which I wasn't very into, but I learned a lot from you. I will always miss coming to see you and you always having a smile on your face regardless of the day you were having. I love you so much Uncle Rich, may you rest peacefully now in the hands of God. Heaven gained an extraordinary angel. ❤️

“ I remember Richard very well from grade school days in Waterloo. I think we all called him "Richie". A number of things stand out but I remember his desk at school filled with a number of books...he was always reading. Bless his memory. Richard was a good person and will be missed. Bob Hayden
