“ My father and I got to talk with Bob at Brookestone Village shortly after he moved in. He seemed to be recovering from his illness and we were told that he was planning to return to Ridgewood once he was through with rehab. As the days continued, we noticed that Bob was sleeping more and more. I am so glad that we had a chance to stop and visit with him when we did.

My father and I went on many bus trips through the Bank of Bennington with Bob and Addie. Bob always had interesting stories to relate.

People will tell you that Bob had a good long life at 97, but that doesn't decrease your loss. The best advise that I ever received was to remember that this time of separation isn't permanent and you will be together in heaven. Janice Cohrs
